

WHY NOT ECONOMIZE

MRS. COLLARD to MRS. SAVINGS:--

I noticed you wore a handsome new dress to church this morning. I and Mrs. Spendthrift were commenting on it this afternoon, and wondered how much it cost?

Mrs. Savings to Mrs. Collard: You remember my husband installed an F. P. Lighting system in our store three months ago? Yes I do.

Well, that dress, and $3 60 is the saving in light expense in that time, and have had a better and more satisfactory light too.

Mrs. C. How much was the dress? Mrs. S. It was $21.35. Mrs. C. Mercy! mercy, on me, was there that difference in your light bill in three months? Mrs. S. There certainly was. Mrs. C. Well I know our lighting bills have been something fierce. But had no idea there could be so much difference as you say. Where did you get your Lighting System? From

THE RESULT OF

A SMALL DEPOSIT in a savings bank in youth, and thrift and saving while youth and vigor were fresh, has been the making of many a man's fortune. The prodigal son isn't the man who secures peace and competence for his future, but the man who places his savings in the Marshall County Trust & Savings Co.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH IS AFTER DISEASE

NEW EPIDEMIC OF POLIOMYELITIS TO BE LOOKED AFTER BY ALL PHYSICIANS AND REPORTED.

URGENT NEED OF ACTION

Rules Are Given for Doctors and They are Asked to Co-operate With the State Board

The following notice has been sent to Dr. L. D. Eley, county health officer. He did not state what the meaning was of the big word nor how it is pronounced, but if the disease is as terrible as the name it must be fearful indeed and we hope the doctors will be able to "nip it in the bud." To Physicians and Health Officers: Under an act of the Indiana Legislature it is made the duty of the State Board of Health to make an Epidemiological study of the disease known as Epidemic Poliomyelitis in the State of Indiana. In compliance with this order of the legislature, the State board of health has adopted the following rules pertaining to the duties of health officers and physicians in order that they may co-operate with the State Board in this important work:

Rule 1.—It shall be the duty of the attending physician to immediately report every case of Epidemic Poliomyelitis occurring in his practice to the health officer having jurisdiction. Cases occurring within incorporated cities and towns shall be immediately reported to the health officer of such incorporated cities and towns. Cases occurring without incorporated cities and towns shall be immediately reported to the health commissioner of the county.

Rule 2.—It shall be the duty of all health officers to immediately report to the State Board of Health, at Indianapolis, all cases of Epidemic Poliomyelitis occurring within their jurisdiction. Such reports shall give the name and address of the patient and attending physician and shall be forwarded immediately by telephone, telegraph or mail at the expense, if necessary, of the State Board.

Rule 3.—It shall be the further duty of all physicians and health officers to assist the State Board in every reasonable way in the Epidemiological investigation of this disease, particularly by giving immediate notice of cases as above provided, by making prompt history reports on blanks to be provided for such purpose, and by assisting the Epidemiologist of the State Board in the investigation of epidemics of the disease should any such occur.

Attest: J. N. Hurty, Secretary.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Under the Horseshoe. By a citizen of Plymouth.

Yes, "Under the Horseshoe lies Plymouth." The beautiful city, alone. On the banks of the old Yellow river. Whence crime and her minions have flown. And our people are reaping the harvests. Which the fathers and mothers have sown. While "Under the Horseshoe lies Plymouth." The beautiful city,—alone.

We are proud of our shade trees and pavements. And proud of our churches and schools. We will do what we can for our city. Ours is not the arid that cools. While our people are reaping the harvests. Which the fathers and mothers have sown. While "Under the Horseshoe lies Plymouth." The beautiful city,—alone.

The seeds which the fathers have planted. The sons in their loyalty reap. The precepts their mothers have taught them. The daughters of Plymouth still keep.

And our people are reaping the harvests. From the seeds that our parents have sown. While "Under the Horseshoe lies Plymouth." The beautiful city,—alone.

We boast not of wagons and watches. Nor envy the Queen of the North. We boast not of meannile splendors. Or the spirit that's calling them forth. But our people are reaping the harvests. Which the fathers and mothers have sown. While "Under the Horseshoe lies Plymouth." The beautiful city,—alone.

We wish peace and good will to our neighbors. And success to the Queen of the North. May her plows turn the sods of the nations. And her wagons and watches go forth. While our people are reaping the harvests. Which the fathers and mothers have sown. And "Under the Horseshoe lies Plymouth." The beautiful city,—alone.

The Horseshoe, our rainbow of promise. Embannered, we lift it on high. As, flung to the breezes of morning. It gleams like a Star in the sky. And our people are reaping the harvests. Which the fathers and mothers have sown. While "Under the Horseshoe lies Plymouth." The beautiful city,—alone.

The Horseshoe, our crescent of beauty. Emblazoned on our banner so fair. It points to a citizen's duty. As gaily it floats upon air. And no crime-blasted city is springing. From the seeds that our parents have sown. While "Under the Horseshoe lies Plymouth." The beautiful city,—alone.

Fling, fling to the breezes of morning. Our banner of crimson and blue. While the horseshoe of gold is adorning. The field of our ensign so true. And our people are reaping the harvests. Which the fathers and mothers have sown. While "Under the Horseshoe lies Plymouth." The beautiful city,—alone.

The horseshoe, our only emblazement. Good luck is the language it speaks. Gaze not on our flag in amazement. The seeker will find what he seeks. And our people are reaping the harvests. Which the fathers and mothers have sown. While "Under the Horseshoe lies Plymouth." The beautiful city,—alone.

The horseshoe, escutcheoned in glory. A magnet of gold on our shield. Shall attract both the young and the hoary. To friends, not to foes will we yield. And our people are reaping the harvests. From the seeds which our parents have sown. While "Under the Horseshoe lies Plymouth." The beautiful city,—alone.

SPEED MARK BROKEN

Pennsylvania Train Covers 105 Miles in 80 Minutes in Test.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Sept. 18.—In a running time of eighty minutes, the special Pennsylvania test train covered the 105 miles from Valparaiso to this city. The real time was eighty-four minutes, but a four-minute delay was caused by a milk train at Hamlet.

The train was drawn by a monster stoker equipped engine and consisted of ten coaches, each weighted down with 40,000 pounds of rails to bring them to standard weight. The run was but one of many which have been held and will be held by the Pennsylvania in the most extensive tests the operating department has made.

MOTHER LEAVES LITTLE GIRL

Gary, Ind., Sept. 18.—A seven-year old girl, who gave her name as Helen Smith, was found in a corner of the Lake Shore station, crying as if her heart would break, by Officer Nick Miskovich. When questioned by the officer the little girl said that she and her mother had started from Cleveland for Chicago.

As the train stopped at Gary the woman put the little girl off on the platform and told her to take care of herself. She is being cared for at the home of Chief of Police Martin while detectives are searching for the mother.

WOMAN STRUCK BY BOLT

Lightning Tears Her Clothing and Makes Big Hole in Ground.

Knightsville, Ind., Sept. 18.—Mrs. Peter Miller, aged thirty, formed a part of a circuit in the freaky course of a bolt of lightning during a thunderstorm. The bolt struck her home, tearing off the shingles, leaping to the porch and from there to a wire clothes line. Mrs. Miller was in the yard hanging out her washing.

The bolt tore the clothing from her body, riddling her shoes and entering the ground. A large hole was torn in the earth. Mrs. Miller was made unconscious, but soon rallied and was only slightly injured.

CIGARETTES ARE BANNED

Notre Dame University Forbids Their Use by Undergraduates.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 18.—The authorities of Notre Dame university have officially placed a ban on cigarette smoking among the students. The Rev. John Cavanaugh, president of the school, is back of the move and his signature is attached to the notice promulgating the new order.

It is presumed students disobeying the order will be summarily suspended. Notre Dame is the first important college to declare against cigarette smoking among its students.

HOLD MILLER FOR DEATH

Prisoner Claims He Killed McCaslin in Self-Defense.

Danville, Ind., Sept. 18.—The grand jury of the Hendricks circuit court called to investigate the killing of W. A. McCaslin, at Brownsburg, Aug. 25, has returned an indictment against Charles Miller, holding him guilty of the crime and charging murder in the first degree.

Miller has been in jail here since the death of McCaslin, and still contends that he did the shooting in self-defense. Janitor Slain by Burglars.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 18.—George Foster, aged fifty, janitor of the Varner building, in the heart of this city, is believed to have been murdered by burglars. A bullet wound near the heart revealed the cause of death. It is believed Foster either heard the burglars enter the building or met them as they came in.

Faints as She Seeks Death. Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 18.—Miss Esta Hillis, aged twenty, of Carbon, Ind., fainted as she was about to ask for poison in a drug store. At the hospital a note was found on her person saying she was out of work, tired of living and wished to die. She had been staying with a sister, Mrs. Edwards.

Shoots Wife; Then Ends Own Life. Sullivan, Ind., Sept. 18.—After having fatally wounded his wife, Ordie Jones shot and killed himself in the street in front of their home. Jones, it is said, was violently jealous of his wife. He was employed as a construction foreman on the Illinois Central railroad.

Caught by Deadly Line Shaft. Fort Wayne, Ind., Sept. 18.—Caught by a line shaft in a pit at the rolling mills and whirled about it until all his wearing apparel except one shoe was stripped from his body, Charles Sandercock, an oiler at the mills, was instantly killed.

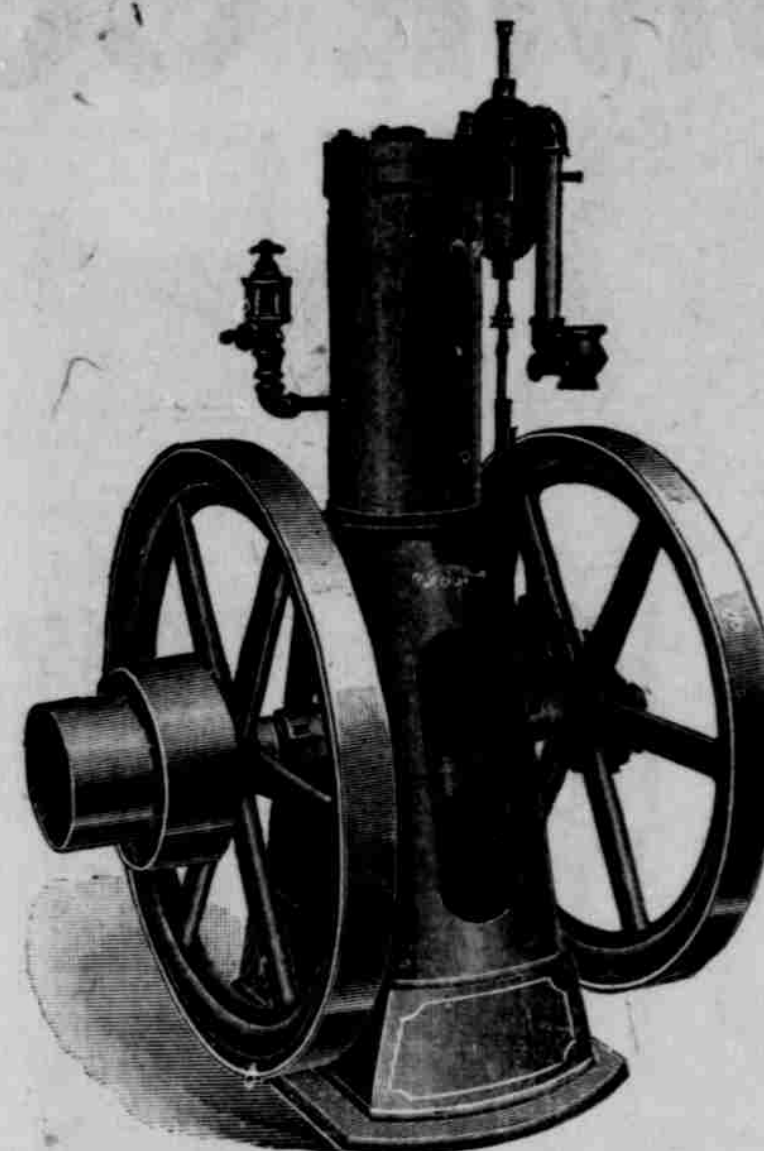

Coal Miners Return to Work. Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 18.—One thousand miners of the Clinto coal company returned to work today, the company having withdrawn a list of questions of personal nature which the men were to answer and sign.
